

ATTENTION WORDSMITHS!

Are you a writer?

Do you write stories and show them to your family and friends? Do you have a journal filled with secret poems? Does your imagination fill your day more than food, sleep, and school? Well, don't forget to eat, go to bed early, and do your homework, but if you LOVE to write or are a natural storyteller, come to the new OSLS Roundtable!

What is a Roundtable?

If you have heard of the legendary King Arthur and his fraternity of knights, you will know they met at Camelot Castle. To make sure everyone was viewed equally, the Knights gathered at a round table for meetings and to make decisions.

While we may meet at square tables, a writers roundtable works the same way. You will work as peers to write, critique, and discuss all aspects of writing. Your friendly neighborhood writer-in-residence, Mrs. Calvert, will mentor you, help you learn about the publishing industry, become better readers and writers, and best of all, have fun doing what you love!

Are you in 5th-8th
grade?

Come join the OSLS Roundtable!
